Noted Woman Pianist with Philharmonic

With the superb Guilomar Novaes, Brazilian pianist whose continued triumphs have brought her international renown, as featured soloist, the fourth pair of Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra concerts, Jan. 21-22, with Otto Klemperer conducting, promises to be a rare treat for concert-goers throughout the Southland.

A mature artist at the age of 16, Mme. Novaes, following her debut with the leading orchestras of Europe, gave unusually successful performances in England, France, Germany, Italy, Switzerland and other countries. Still in her teens when she made her debut in New York in 1916, American critics immediately bowed to her talent and overnight proclaimed her the successor to Teresa Carreno, acclaimed as the greatest woman pianist the world has ever known. On the fourth pair of Los Angeles concerts this great musician will be heard playing Chopin's beautiful Concerto in F minor.

In keeping with his record this season for innovations and first performances, Otto Klemperer will conduct the world premier of Ernest Bloch's new symphonic poem, "Voice in the Wilderness." This presentation should delight those who follow modern tendencies in music, for Bloch has been said to have preserved a striking individuality among his many modern contemporaries.

Other numbers which Klemperer has included in the Jan. 21-22 program are Mozart's Overture "Entfuhrung aus dem Serail" and Richard Strauss' "Till Euhlen'spiegel's Merry Pranks, op. 28."

Jane Johnston, senior princess; Shirley Johnson, junior princess; Doris Kresse, guide; Betty Elliot, marshal; Euphrasia Taylor, chaplain; Vivian Knudsen, recorder; Marion Spehger, treasurer; Georgina Tiffany, librarian; Patty Post, pianist; Lucille Acres, junior custodian; Martin Sears, senior guard; Virginia Crandall, inner guard; Barbara Hall, outer guard; Virginia Traller, first messenger; Carl Lindeman, second messenger; Marjorie Paige, third messenger; Barbara McCune, fourth messenger; Muriel Alverson, fifth messenger.

Lorene Ulrich as installing soloist sang "Shepherd Show Me The Way." Margaret Kibbe sang a solo at the close of the ceremony.

Guardian Council Mrs. Luise Johnson and Frank Steinhilber will again serve as guardian and associate of the council. Other members of the council are: Gwendolyn Knudsen, guardian secretary; Maude Aresse, guardian treasurer; Alice Spehger, guardian sociality; Mrs. R. A. Huber, guardian of paraphernalia; Janet Johnston, guardian of finances; and Maxine Smith, director of music.

NO MORE ANNOYANCE FROM BIFOCALS

Ever since it was discovered that bifocals are an immense relief and help to eyes, there has been a certain amount of discomfort in getting "used to them". But now optical science has developed a new bifocal that is much easier to wear, better for distant and close vision—the new Ful-vue bifocals. We'll be glad to show you the difference.

Autobiography of John Hays Hammond: This covers 80 years of an adventurous life on four continents and is recounted by one of the foremost living engineers. An intimate of the world's great leaders, pioneer in opening America's gold mines and associate of Cecil Rhodes in Africa, he helped extend the frontiers of civilization throughout the world. In the first volume Hammond relates his early years in the West, his entry into South African affairs; his association with Cecil Rhodes; account of the so-called Jameson Raid and his participation makes thrilling reading. The second volume is filled with glimpses of Theodore Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson, etc., follows the ups and downs and development of American industry from 1900 on.

This cannot be too highly recommended as most interesting record, a shrewd commentary on the past. Those readers interested in the story of African development and Hammond's vivid account of his participation in the Boer struggle will find another fine account by an equally remarkable man—Major Frederick Burnham.

"Scouting on Two Continents" by Major Burnham, who saw the west in its beginning and was trained by the Apache Indians in scouting. One of the bravest and most thrilling events in all the South African struggle was staged and executed by Major Burnham single handed. A brave man, explorer, and intrepid fighter, Major Burnham presents a different viewpoint from that of Hammond but one equally, if not more absorbing.
